

Refurbishing Tenure Parochial House

Over the last two years, the Parish Finance Committee (PFC) has given considerable thought and consideration as to what to do with this property. The house is in poor condition, deteriorating as each year passes. Having explored the matter, we were advised by the Louth CoCo planners, through our Architect, that we are not permitted to demolish it as it's on Church grounds and the Church has a preservation order on it which - according to the Council - extends to the House. The Diocese won't permit its sale for the same reason.

As Clergy numbers decline, the Pastoral Area will become more important as a way to organise things. Not every parish will have a resident priest. Also, bearing in mind the financial pressures on maintaining two houses in this parish for only one priest; and in an effort to ensure that as we move forward, our Parish will be best placed for a resident priest; the PFC having discussed and considered matters in detail, proposes to;

- 1. Upgrade and add a small extension to the Parochial House situated on the grounds of Tenure Church, following which Fr. Paddy will move there, making it the Parish Priest's house.
- 2. When this work is complete and Fr. Paddy has re-located, to then sell/dispose of the Parochial House in Fieldstown.

The parish does not have the funds needed to refurbish the property, and in order to secure funding - in the form of a bridging loan - from the Diocese, we are liaising closely with the Diocesan Office as we are obliged to do for these kinds of projects. The bridging loan from the dioceses if/when approved would have to be repaid from the sale of Fieldstown House with any remaining funds to be used for other parish projects.

We have received approval from the Diocesan Authorities to progress to the next stage of the process - which includes seeking planning permission. We will be making these proposed plans for Tenure House available in both Churches in the coming weeks.

The PFC hope that you will give your support to this project in the face of the huge changes coming in the future; We believe this is the best way to ensure that our parish makes best use of its resources, and provides the best possible chance of having a resident priest in the years ahead.
